Summary:

The story begins when Jeremy Fink receive his 13th birthday present from his dad, who passed away 5 years ago. It is a small wooden box, with 4 keyholes and it is noted 'the meaning of life' on the top of it. As they are unable to destroy the box, Jeremy and his best friend-Lizzy have to search for the 4 missing keys in order to open it. However, they do not get any clues and what they can do is to go downtown and find dad's old friend, who may keep the keys.

Because of their illegal action of breaking into a building without permission, they get a job to help Mr. Oswald, returning items to the original owners, people who pawned these items when only teenagers.

During their visits, both of them learn important lessons about life by listening to the owners' views.

In the end of the story, Jeremy has truly understood the meaning of life, and so you too.
