Title: Spinning

Author: Tillie Walden

Publisher: N/A

It begins when Tillie moves to Texas and starts some new relationships. Her whole life changes when a car almost crashes into her, and she finds that she can't jump after that. Therefore, she starts to wonder whether she loves skating anymore or should keep practising it or not. As she's facing this dilemma, she tries to list out the reasons that she started learning skating. She is indecisive for a while. At the end, she thinks about her real emotions during the lessons.

The feeling when I read this book:

While I was reading the book, I could remember the time when I was learning ballet. I felt the pressure in those harsh times. Moreover, I began to hate ballet since the stress came regularly. I've tried to fix it, and I thought about it deeply before I left the class. I'm still not regretting my decision because I feel much more relieved now.

I bet you all understand how nervous Tillie was when she completed the skating tasks. F.1 to F.3 students need to do C.A.T., right? In terms of F.4 to F.6 students, you were preparing for the DSE. In my point of view, we are all fighting for our most important academic work! standably, we may want to give up sometimes. However, you can change your mind by thinking about the beautiful future you might have if you persist! Then you'll get the power to study again.
